Excerpt: . CHAPTER V. THE MERCHANT S CLERK. Yet once more, O ye laurels, and once more Ye myrtles brown, with ivy never sere, I come to pluck your berries harsh and crude; And, with forced fingers rude, Shatter your leaves before the mellowing year. Bitter constraint and sad occasion dear, Compels me to disturb your season due I For Lycidas is dead, dead ere his prime -- Young Lycidas t * Look, reader, once more with the eye and heart of sympathy, at a melancholy page in the book of human life -- a sad one, indeed, and almost the last that will be opened by one who has laid several before you, and is about to take bis departure! It was pouring with rain one Wednesday, in the month of March, 18--, about twelve o clock, and had been raining violently the whole...
